What We May Collect and Store Automatically

If you do nothing during your visit but browse through the website, read pages, or download information, we may gather and store certain information about your visit automatically. This information may or may not identify you personally. We may automatically collect and store information about your visit, including but not limited to:

The Internet Domain and IP address from which you access our website;

The type of browser and operating system used to access our site;

The date and time you access our site;

The pages you visit; and

If you linked to our website from another website, the address of that website.

We may use the information we collect to count the number and type of visitors to the different pages on our site, and to help us make our site more useful to other visitors.

If You Send Us E-mail

You may choose to provide us with personal information, as in an e-mail with a comment or question. We may use the information to improve our service to you or to respond to your request. Sometimes we forward your e-mail to other personnel who may be better able to help you. Except for authorized law enforcement investigations, we do not share our e-mail with any other outside organizations.

Cookies

"Cookies" are small bits of text that are either used for the duration of a session, or saved on a user's hard drive in order to identify that user, or information about that user, the next time the user logs on to a Web site. One or more of our component sites may use cookies to provide streamlined navigation.

Information Protection

For site security purposes and to ensure that this service remains available to all users, this computer system may employ software programs to monitor network traffic to identify unauthorized attempts to upload or change information, or otherwise cause damage. If such monitoring reveals evidence of possible abuse or criminal activity, such evidence may be provided to appropriate law enforcement officials. Unauthorized attempts to upload or change information on this server are strictly prohibited and may be punishable under the Computer Fraud and Abuse Act of 1986 and the National Information Infrastructure Protection Act or other laws.

Linking Policy

Bluewater Sailing links to many websites created and maintained by other public and / or private organizations. We provide these links as a service to our users. When users link to an outside website, they are leaving the Bluewater Sailing web site and are subject to the privacy and security policies of the owners / sponsors of the outside website(s).
